

Get your foodie fix on the Atherton Tablelands

Fiona Harper

Foodies take a deep breath and prepare your tastebuds for tantalisation. Here's fourteen fun ways to get your foodie fix on the Atherton Tablelands.

Mt Uncle Distillery

Mt Uncle Distillery entrance

Mt Uncle Distillery entrance

Drinks at Mt Uncle Distillery

Drinks at Mt Uncle Distillery

Mt Uncle Distillery tasting paddle

Mt Uncle Distillery tasting paddle

The Atherton Tablelands is unique with its foodie offerings. Meet quirky Mt. Uncle Distillery, an award-winning boutique distillery set on a banana plantation with resident alpacas, donkeys, goats and free-roaming peacocks.

Quench your thirst with a tasting paddle of handcrafted liqueurs and spirits at their Cellardoor before playing meet and greet with the farm animals.

The Peanut Place

Look out for the big peanut at the Peanut Place, Tolga

Look out for the big peanut at the Peanut Place, Tolga

Handmade peanut butter from the Peanut Place, Tolga

Handmade peanut butter from the Peanut Place, Tolga

Flavoured peanuts from the Peanut Place, Tolga

Flavoured peanuts from the Peanut Place, Tolga

Go nuts (apologies for the obvious pun) at The Peanut Place. You won't miss the tell-tale Big Peanut on the Kennedy Highway just out of Tolga. Not just peanuts, you can bag a batch of macadamias (the area is famous for these creamy nuts), pecans and cashews too.

The Smokehouse Café

Big Barramundi

The oversized barramundi poking above green pastures on the Kennedy Highway is the first sign that you've reached fish-frenzied nirvana, otherwise known as The Smokehouse Cafe. The second is aquaculture ponds stocked with half a million fish. Catch your own barramundi or if that sounds too hard simply order the catch of the day from the cafe.

Lake Barrine Teahouse

Scones and tea at the Lake Barrine Tea House

A glorious old teahouse on the banks of Lake Barrine, itself a former volcanic crater, Lake Barrine Teahouse serves up one of the best Devonshire Teas on the Tablelands. Afterwards, walk off cream-laden calories on the rainforest trail circling the lake.

Skybury Coffee Plantation

Skybury Coffee

Serving up aromatic Australian Arabica Coffee as well as bananas and papayas plucked straight from the farm, Skybury Coffee is Australia's oldest coffee plantation. Linger over lunch or take home your preferred blend coffee capsules which are compatible with Nespresso machines.

Malanda Dairy Centre

Malanda Dairy Centre

Malanda Dairy Centre cleverly combines café, museum and art gallery in the heart of Malanda. Go here for fine coffee, exquisite lunches, impeccable friendly service and dinner too if you find yourself in Malanda on a Friday night.

Gallo Dairyland

Gallo Dairyland

Gallo Dairyland

Gallo Dairyland chocolates

Gallo Dairyland chocolates

Gallo Dairyland cheese selection

Gallo Dairyland cheese selection

Gallo Dairyland lunch

Gallo Dairyland lunch

Stop by Gallo Dairyland for lunch, morning or afternoon tea in a dairy farm café or take home delicious house made chocolate and cheese. Cheese addicts can linger in the Cheese Factory to check out the cheese making process.

Coffee Works

Grab a freshly brewed espresso

Grab a freshly brewed espresso

Stock up on gifts for family & friends

Stock up on gifts for family & friends

Coffee isn't the only thing they do well at Coffee Works

Coffee isn't the only thing they do well at Coffee Works

You can't leave Coffee Works without taking some fresh beans home

You can't leave Coffee Works without taking some fresh beans home

Get your caffeine fix at Coffee Works in Mareeba while learning about growing, roasting, savouring, trading and drinking the enticingly pungent brew we can't seem to get enough of. Not into coffee? They're pretty handy at hand-crafted chocolate too.

Mungalli Creek Dairy

Mungalli Creek Dairy and Teahouse

Pop into Mungalli Creek Dairy and Teahouse for bio-dynamic (as in unpasteurised) yoghurt, cheese and milk that comes with a decadent layer of cream (even the low fat variety). Linger over lunch on the verandah overlooking implausibly green dairy pastures.

The Falls Teahouse

The Falls Tea House cake

The Falls Tea House cake

The Falls Tea House

The Falls Tea House

The Falls Tea House

The Falls Tea House

The Falls Teahouse is a gorgeous old Queenslander oozing high country charisma plopped on top of a hill just outside Millaa Millaa. Go here for lunch or Devonshire Teas on the way to or from the Waterfall Circuit.

Golden Drop Winery

Golden Drop Wine

Originally a tobacco plantation that diversified from the weed that kills to the fruit that nurtures, Golden Drop Winery was the first commercial mango winery in the world. These days they're cultivating luscious Kensington red mangoes to produce still and sparkling wines.

Nerada Tea

Nerada Tea Fields

One of Australia's best-loved tea brands, Nerada Tea plantation's tendrils reach as far back as the 1880's. Pop in for a factory tour before lingering over Devonshire tea – you can be sure the tea is fabulous.

Shaylee Strawberries

Strawberry gelato at Shaylee Strawberries

Between Atherton and Yungaburra, find Shaylee Strawberries. During the cooler months, you can pick your own strawberries, paying only for what you pick, or stop by throughout the year and pick up homemade gelato, sorbet and strawberry jam.

Bring your appetite

With a profusion of experiences and produce, whatever your interests and appetite, you're unlikely to ever go hungry up here.