

Find out Singapore's best luxury hotel pools to cool down in | Skyscanner Australia

Few cities do luxury hotel pools like Singapore does. Almost straddling the Equator, the Lion City has cornered the market when it comes to cooling down with the style crowd. Skyscanner Australia has scoped out Singapore's hippest hotel pools for you (it's a tough life but someone's got to do it!).

Marina Bay Sands

It's hard to ignore the triple-pillared Marina Bay Sands which dominates Singapore's skyline from absolutely everywhere. MBS is home to one of the world's most recognisable and Instagram-worthy pools, (hotel guests only). Located 57 levels above the street, guests can take in sweeping views of Singapore from the world's largest rooftop infinity pool. From the 157m long pool or poolside lounges, travellers chill out, cool down and relax from the city's best vantage point.

Fullerton Bay Hotel

Sophisticated & oh so stylish with a nod to the past neatly sums up Fullerton Bay Hotel. The rooftop swimming pool inly lives up to the high standards set upon stepping into the Fullerton's chandeliered lobby.

By day the 25m long infinity pool is used by lap swimmers and sun worshippers but by night the pool and adjacent bar take on a totally different vibe. Lantern

Rooftop Bar, whose name is derived from the red lanterns that Singapore's early migrant seafarers used to find their way home, is an elegant open-air bar and restaurant. With striking views across Marina Bay it's a well known hotspot for sensational cocktails created by resident mixologists.

Best time to book: Did you know that the best time to book a flight to Singapore is 11 weeks in advance? You can save $82 of an average flight price (9% of the total flight cost!).

W Singapore – Sentosa Cove

Surreal sonic waves are piped through underwater speakers to help stressed sun-worshippers relax at one of Singapore's largest outdoor pool areas at W Singapore Sentosa Cove. As though private cabanas complete with iPad, iPod & mist fan weren't enough, there's canopied sun loungers or floating sunbeds to keep the heat at bay. Snappy young Ambassadors are on hand to supply essentials or swim up to the WET Bar for snacks & cocktails. After dark, the poolside deck is illuminated (as Singapore does so well), with rainbow hues casting a magical glow on the water, lighting up poolside socialising. An Endless Summer pool party happens on the first Sunday of every month for sunshine-filled good vibrations overlooking the South China Sea.

SO Sofitel

Befitting Karl Lagerfield's collaborative influence, Sofitel SO's gold-tiled swimming pool is the poolside venue of choice for cool fashionistas – it's the place to see and be seen! Sofitel SO's style is a playful fusion whereby the elegance of France meets the spices of the Orient. Famous for hosting monthly HI-SO rooftop parties with a hot roster of DJ's, the gold tiles sparkle after dark, catching rays of colourful light. Cool tunes spun by a rotating roster of hot DJ's keep the party swinging, which often have a theme, such as a pool party with BBQ. Asian-inspired cocktails are served in an elegant city setting surrounded by skyscrapers.

Naumi Cloud 9

Smack bang in Singapore's city heart, Naumi Hotel's rooftop infinity pool and its adjacent Cloud 9 bar is a tranquil oasis. Think intimate luxury that Small Luxury Hotels do so well surrounded by architectural movers and shakers of Singapore's skyline. With moonlight on your shoulders, night skies overhead and sparkling waters at your feet, Cloud 9's lounges are a place to get cosy and close with your loved one in an urban hideaway.

Hotel Fort Canning

A swimming pool unremarkable on its own but cast your eyes beyond the mosaic tiles in multiple hues of blue and its inclusion becomes obvious. Hotel Fort Canning itself is an old-style colonial glamour-puss hotel set in the middle of 18ha historic parklands. From a poolside sun lounge or while working out in the adjacent lap pool, it's hard to imagine the hustle of Orchard Road lies just beyond the surrounding ancient trees of Fort Canning Park.

PARKROYAL on Pickering

Claiming the title of Singapore's greenest hotel thanks to an external layered garden and walls draped in greenery it's hard to argue with Parkroyal on Pickering's credentials. Toss into the mix award-winning architecture and a fifth-level wellness centre with a gorgeous outdoor infinity pool overlooking the city as its centrepiece and the title is deserved. Birdcage-inspired cabanas add some fun – they're the perfect spot for sipping a cocktail poolside.

Oasia Hotel Downtown

A new kid on the hotel block Oasia Hotel Downtown has two rooftop swimming pools high above the city on level 27. If you're checked into a Club Room there's an additional infinity pool at your disposal a few floors down. Not for the faint-hearted, swimmers can swim quite literally to the edge of the pool for a vertigo-inducing view of the city. All pools are 25m long making them a good choice for fitness-focused travellers.
